Reviewing Your Schedule

There are a few different ways to review your schedule. Any time you would like to print your schedule, use your Internet browser's print function or copy the schedule into a document application. To review and print your schedule, start at the home tab.

Accessing Schedules from the Main Menu

Note the section on the right-hand side of the page, titled Banner Self-Service. This section serves as a site map to anything you may access within myPurdue.

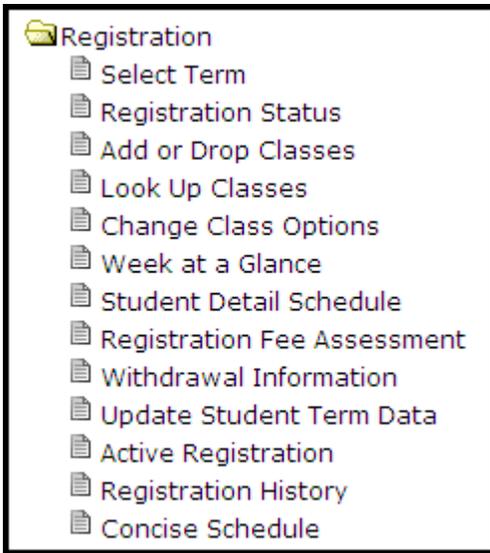

Click the folder.

Of the three subfolders that appear, click Student.

In the Student subfolders, choose Registration.

The resulting list contains the Registration Tool links from the Academic Tab, plus links that will allow you to view your schedule in different ways.

Student Detail Schedule

First, we will view the Student Detail Schedule, located in the Registration folder. Select the Registration Term for which your classes are scheduled. Click Submit.

Each class you scheduled for this term displays, along with detailed information about them. Print this schedule view using your browser's print function.

Concise Schedule

This time, we will view the Concise Schedule. The concise schedule has less information, but the page caters to a printable view. The Status and Grade Mode are absent from this schedule. You may use your browser's print function to obtain a hard copy.

Week at a Glance

Another schedule view in myPurdue is Week at a Glance. Click the appropriate link in the Main Menu to access this view.

This schedule provides students with a convenient grid view of their classes for each week of the semester. With this format, you may print out each week and write down other important events aside from classes into the grid; plus, you may be able to better visualize a typical week during the semester.

The week to week view may also help if you have a part of term course or a class that meets in different rooms or times throughout the semester. Because it is in a grid format, you may also visualize how any changes to the schedule affect your week.

To print, utilize your brower's print function.

From here, you may go week to week by clicking the Previous Week or Next Week links on the top corners of the schedule. You may also click the hyperlinked course names for details; doing this redirects you to the Student Detail Schedule page.

Another function of this schedule view allows you to go to a specific week.

Go to (MM/DD/YYYY): [   ] [Submit]

Enter any date during the semester, and the schedule will go to that week. Note that if you enter a date in the middle of the week, the schedule view will still display from the Monday of that week. For example, if you type "10/12/2008" into the field, your schedule for the week of October 6 will display. Even though October 12 falls on a Sunday, the Week at a Glance begins on Mondays.
