

Math 460: On the final exam

The final exam is essentially completed; there may be minor tinkering.

I expect you to be familiar with Euclid, the class notes and the homework. I will ask some questions relating to the homework, but it will not involve the first 5 assignments, and I will not ask for complicated proofs or constructions (of course, that is my my own evaluation).

I will hold you responsible for proofs of any of the Euclid propositions that I did or which were left to the class.

In my calculation, 110 of the 200 points are related to Euclid.
