

Using only a straightedge and a compass, construct a line parallel to the given segment and passing through point P. Number your construction marks sequentially so it is easy to follow your steps.

P.

